Newsletter of the Race, Ethnicity and Politics Section
American Political Science Association

August 2010

From the Section Co-Presidents

by Michael Jones-Correa (2008-2010) and Valeria Sinclair Chapman (2009-2011)

We wanted to take this opportunity to highlight some of the section's activities this year: Most obviously, this year's meeting of the APSA is coming up soon—we hope to have a chance to see you all in Washington D.C. Our section has an exceptional and broad ranging list of twenty-eight (!) panels at this year's conference, thanks to the efforts of our section co-chairs, Dara Strolovitch and Arturo Vega. We encourage REP members to sit in on these, not only to get a glimpse of cutting-edge research in our field of study, but also because our attendance at these panels helps determine next year's allocation of panels to our section.

Please plan to attend the section's business meeting, which will be held on Friday, September 3rd, at 12:15pm, in Marriott Wardman Park, Maryland A. In addition to voting on our nominating committee's selection of candidates for the section's officers, we will be continuing the conversation about the section's possible relationship with new and/or existing race and ethnic politics journals. This discussion was initiated at last year's business meeting, and has continued through APSA Connect, which recently set up a listserv for use by REP members.

You can access the listserv on APSA Connect by logging in to My APSA, and then clicking on "APSA Connect" on the upper right corner of the page that appears. This will take you to your profile page. On the left you will see a list of discussion groups you can participate in. If you click on "Race, Ethnicity and Politics section" this will display the discussion thread so far. Even if you haven't logged in through the APSA site, REP members receive the posts to the discussion so far as emails. Apart from the journal discussion, the REP list on APSA Connect can be used for other conversations, and can be tailored so that it's limited to a subset of REP members if that is more convenient. Of course, the section's new Facebook page is also a good place for general discussion, posting current events, and celebrating achievements. In short, it's another tool for communication among REP members.

The section's reception will be held on Saturday, September 4th, beginning at 7:15pm, in Marriott Wardman Park, Maryland B, with hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar. At this year's reception we expect to honor the recipients of this year's dissertation and book prizes, and to celebrate the many achievements and successes of our section's members. We will also take a few minutes to remember Njeri Jackson, a founding member of the section, fine colleague and friend to many of us, who passed away recently. Please join us at this year's reception.

The REP section is also helping to sponsor a reception to recognize women of color in the profession, organized by the Women's Caucus of the APSA and the Section for Women and Politics Research. This year's reception is being held on Thursday, September 2nd, from 7:00pm to 9pm at the Marriot Wardman Park's Salon 1. In addition, keep in mind that there are a number of other receptions that will be of interest to REP's members, including receptions by the Asian Pacific American Caucus (Marriott Tyler, Friday September 3, 7:30pm to 9:00pm) and the Latino Caucus in Political Science (Marriott Hoover, Friday September 3, 7:30pm to 9:00pm).

The success of the Race, Ethnicity and Politics section is due in no small part to the dedication of a broad group of scholars who have volunteered for the section on top of all of their other responsibilities. Our thanks goes out to them, and to all of you, for making this section work. To those of you who haven't yet, or would like to again, we invite you to serve as well in whatever capacity to keep this section active and growing. We look forward to seeing you all in the nation's capitol in September!

The APSA Latino Caucus

The APSA Latino Caucus had a very good year. In October 2009, we co-hosted the National Conference on Latino Politics, Power, & Policy at Brown University. The day-long meeting featured a variety of papers using the new Latino National Survey to explore various aspects of Latino attitudes and behavior, and an edited volume featuring some of the strongest papers is currently in production. On March 31, just before the Western Political Science Association meeting, we co-hosted a Latino Politics Workshop in cooperation with the WPSA Committee on the Status of Latinas y Latinos in the Profession. The event featured a lively discussion of the 2010 Census and redistricting, a panel of graduate student research, and a discussion of Sonia Garcia et al.'s 2008 book, Politicás.

In addition, the Caucus has several exciting events planned for this year's annual meeting. On Wednesday, Sept. 1, the Caucus is hosting a Short Course on Latino Politics, from noon-5pm. The event will feature a presentation by Mark Hugo Lopez from the Pew Hispanic Center, a discussion of Cristina Beltrán's forthcoming book The Trouble with Unity, as well as a presentation by Roberto Lovato of the Basta Dobbs campaign and Presente.org. In addition, the Caucus has three panels scheduled for the annual meeting. The first, on Thursday, Sept. 2 at 8am, focuses on coalitions and intersectionality (LC-2). Later that day, at 2pm, is the Caucus panel on Latino Political Thought (LC-1). And on Friday, Sept. 3 at 2pm is our New Directions panel, featuring work by young scholars (LC-3). We will hold our business meeting on Friday, Sept. 3 at 6:15pm and our reception at 7:30 pm.

The Committee on the Status of Blacks in the Profession

The Committee on the Status of Blacks in the Profession is one of the standing committees of the American Political Science Association (http://apsanet.org/content_3688.cfm).

The current members are Clarissa Peterson and Robert (Bob) Starks (Co-Chairs), Claudine Gay, Alice Jackson, Eric McDaniel, and Valeria Sinclair-Chapman. The committee provides periodic reports to APSA on issues of concern to African Americans in the profession. In response to the findings of the article which appeared in PS: Political Science & Politics, —Survey of African American Portrayal in Introductory Textbooks in American Government/Politics: A Report of the APSA Standing Committee on the Status of Blacks in the Profession, the committee has taken on several initiatives. This article uncovered the overwhelming problems with the way that American Government textbooks cover race. As a result, the committee continues to create a list of consultants to provide textbook authors and publishers. The committee is also connecting with the authors and publishers to pursue a dialogue on how the textbooks might become more inclusive. To this end the committee has invited several publishers and authors to the 2010 meeting to have a conversation about these textbooks. These meetings will continue over the next few years.

The committee continues to address the low number of Black faculty members at the annual meeting of APSA and is undergoing efforts to increase Black membership. Moreover, the committee hopes to increase the number of Black members who participate in the governance of APSA.

Finally, in honor of the late Linda Faye Williams, the CSBP hopes to propose a mentoring award for faculty members. We hope to increase the number of faculty members who become mentors and award them for their hard work. The committee is working on the details and proposal. We invite REP members to sign up for the Mentoring Initiative, administered via the APSA website, or send an email to the Educational, Professional and Minority Initiative Office at mentoring@apsanet.org.

The Asian Pacific American Caucus

The Asian Pacific American Caucus (APAC) is sponsoring two panels this year. Please help support APAC by attending these panels:

- Friday Sept. 3rd: Shifting Currents of Asian American Politics
2:00 PM-3:45 p.m., in Marriot Wardman Park, Taft
- Saturday Sept. 4th: Citizenship, Panethnicity, and Racial Formation
2:00 PM-3:45 p.m., in Marriot Wardman Park, Hilton Columbia

Details on the panels may be found at http://www.apsanet.org/mtgs/program_2010/relgrouppanel.cfm, click on link to "Asian American Caucus".

BUSINESS MEETING: The yearly APAC business meeting will be held on Friday Sept. 3rd, 6:15-7:15 p.m. This meeting is open to anyone interested in learning about APAC's work, which includes encouraging original research on Asian Americans. APAC is especially interested in helping young scholars find avenues to present their work and develop their careers. One new item to be discussed is the formation of a Status committee for Asian American and Pacific Islanders as a part of the Western Political Science Association. The business meeting will be held at the Marriott Wardman Park, Buchanan Room.

RECEPTION: Please join us at our reception, hosted with the Committee on the Status of Asian Pacific Americans in Political Science, immediately following the APAC business meeting, on Friday Sept. 3rd, 7:30-9:00 p.m. APAC members will celebrate publications authored by several of its members, including: Christian Collet and Pei-te Lien's new edited volume, The Transnational Politics of Asian Americans (2009, Temple); Andrew Aoki and Okiyoshi Takeda's Asian American Politics (2008, Polity) the first undergraduate textbook on Asian American politics; and Michael Liu, Kim Geron, and Tracy Lai's The Snake Dance of Asian American Activism (2008, Lexington).

Amerasia Journal has published "The Political World of Asian Americans: A Tribute to Don T. Nakanishi" in 2009 (vol. 35: 3). There will be forthcoming 2010-11 edition of the National Asian Pacific American Political Almanac, a bi-annual national publication by the UCLA Asian American Studies Center Press, consisting of national, state, and local Asian American elected officials and political data since 1995.

APAC also looks forward to the forthcoming, Suburban Transformations: Asian American Political Incorporation in the New Gateway (2010, Lynne Rienner); and to a forthcoming co-authored book evaluating the results of a new National Asian American Survey, Asian American Political Participation: Emerging Constitutents and their Political Identities (tentative manuscript title under review by Routledge).

Proceeds from a silent auction of recent publications on Asian Americans will be used for APAC business expenses in the coming year.

The reception will be held at the Marriott Wardman Park, Buchanan Room.

Report from the Indigenous Studies Network

At the 2009 Annual Meeting, the Indigenous Studies Network (ISN) sponsored a panel entitled "Examining Indigenous Rights, Identities, and Governance Through Native and Non-Native Frameworks." ISN hosted a business meeting and was part of a well attended and diverse Working Group on Tribal Sovereignty and Indigenous Peoples and Politics. ISN and the working group benefited from the location in Toronto, as we were able to welcome more Canadian based scholars, practitioners, and indigenous peoples. We also had the opportunity to commemorate the life and work of one of our founding and most influential members, Darlene Williams, who had been an APSA Minority Fellow and a long time member of the Race and Politics Section. It was a fitting tribute, as Darlene particularly enjoyed the city of Toronto and had many friends there.

At the 2010 Annual Meeting we are pleased to offer a panel on "Self Determination: Resistance and Resiliency," as well as having several other presentations related to Indigenous peoples and politics on other panels. We welcome any questions, interest or new members. For more information, please contact Anne Flaherty at aflahe@siue.edu.
